

TEGGPro Maintenance Schedule

TEGGPro is going Virtual! This year TEGGPro will be moving from multiple physical servers to multiple virtual servers. We recently completed the planning stage of this project and are now entering the testing phase. During this time, it will be necessary to periodically take the existing TEGGPro servers offline for brief periods of time. This will occur during weekend hours and span over the next several months.

The schedule below is subject to change, please check it weekly. Please notify your electricians of the schedule, this schedule is only available online.
